Disclosure Regarding Background Investigation

The Georgia Institute of Technology (“the Institute”) will request, for lawful employment purposes, background information about you from a consumer reporting agency in connection with your employment or application for employment (including independent contractor or temporary assignments, as applicable). This background information may be obtained in the form of consumer reports and/or investigative consumer reports (commonly known as “background check reports” or “background checks”). These background check reports may be obtained at any time after receipt of your authorization and, if you are hired or engaged by the Institute, throughout your employment or your contract period.

The background check reports will be obtained by the Institute from one (or both) of the two consumer reporting agencies below.

If the Institute should obtain information bearing on your credit worthiness, credit standing or credit capacity for reasons other than as required by law, the Institute will use such credit information to evaluate whether you would present an unacceptable risk of theft or other dishonest behavior in the job for which you are being evaluated.

You have the right to request more information about the nature and scope of any investigative consumer report by contacting the applicable consumer reporting agency listed above in writing within a reasonable time after receipt of this notice. A summary of your rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act is also being provided to you.
